MIRVAC TENNIS CENTRE LAUNCH

Tennyson Reach, Brisbane

This development has been talked up for months. Focal point of the concept, on the old Tennyson power house site, will be the spiffy new-age tennis centre. Mirvac will throw a cool $700 million or so at the project, flanking the centre with glassy riverfront apartment towers, designed as hangouts for the career-conscious and well-heeled folks who have socked away their dollars. They were all there! The Premier starred at the speech podium; when doesn't he? Suavely suited Mirvac heavy Chris Freeman co-starred; and when doesn't he? A fireworks extravaganza, about $100,000 worth, gave the possums across the river a bit of a start. Nothing for it but bottoms up!
